

Find ADBI on the web

Visit the ADBI website to learn about:

Events

ADBI conferences, workshops and training sessions.

Working Papers

More than 300 working papers on all aspects of economic and social development in Asia and the Pacific.

Books

In-depth studies of the major issues facing the region.

Asia Pathways

ADBI's new blog offers a fresh look at critical economic and development issues facing Asia and the Pacific.

Information about ADBI

Details of ADBI's work program; major initiatives; employment and business opportunities; and much more.

e-notification

An e-mail service covering new publications, events, and opportunities.

e-newsline

A daily survey of development news from across Asia and the Pacific via summaries of regional news stories and blogs.

Location of ADBI

ADBI programs are conducted at its offices in Kasumigaseki, in the central government district of Tokyo, Japan, as well as in ADB member countries, in collaboration with international, regional, and national institutes or agencies. Selected activities are also conducted at ADB headquarters in Manila.

Asian Development Bank Institute
Kasumigaseki Bldg. 8F
3-2-5 Kasumigaseki, Chiyoda-ku
Tokyo 100-6008, Japan

Tel: + 81 3 3593 5500
Fax: + 81 3 3593 5571

Email: info@adbi.org

Stay connected

ASIAN DEVELOPMENT BANK INSTITUTE

www.adbi.org

About the Asian Development Bank Institute

What is ADBI?

ADBI is the think tank of the Asian Development Bank (ADB). It was established in 1997 to identify effective development strategies and to improve development management in ADB's developing member countries.

ADBI is fast becoming the leading center for the creation and dissemination of information and knowledge on development in the Asia and Pacific region.

Who are ADBI's partners?

ADBI cultivates an extensive network of experts, researchers, think tanks, government agencies, civil society, private sector organizations, and bilateral and multilateral organizations, within the Asia and Pacific region and beyond.

What are ADBI's priorities?

Under the ADB overarching goal of poverty reduction, ADBI's three strategic priority themes are:

- inclusive and sustainable growth,
- regional cooperation and integration, and
- governance for policies and institutions.

ADBI Quick Facts

Established in 1997 as a subsidiary of the Asian Development Bank

Dean and CEO
Masahiro Kawai

Departments

- Research
- Capacity Building and Training
- Administration, Management and Coordination

An international Advisory Council helps shape and monitor ADBI's strategic directions

Located in central Tokyo

58 staff representing 16 nationalities

Major current initiatives

Climate Change and Green Asia will recommend an Asian strategy for low-carbon green growth that maximizes environmental, economic, and social benefits, without hampering competitiveness.

Role of Key Emerging Economies for a Balanced, Sustainable, and Resilient Asia will address regional cooperation and integration in ASEAN, the PRC, and India. A component of the study, ASEAN 2030: Growing Together for Shared Prosperity, will offer policy options for ASEAN countries to support their transition to more developed economies with a high quality of life by 2030. A companion study on Pacific Island Economies 2030 will explore the choices for the future for small Pacific island countries.

International Monetary and Financial System: Asian Perspective will focus on reforms to the international monetary and financial system and their implications for Asian economies.

Disaster Risk Management: Lessons for Asia will identify strategies to reduce the cost of disasters, increase the speed and efficiency of emergency response, promote more effective recovery and reconstruction, and strengthen and diversify funding.

What does ADBI do?

Research

ADBI carries out research on development issues with strategic implications for development thinking and policy formulation. It hosts presentations by distinguished experts, including Nobel prizewinners, and publishes books and papers to strengthen policymaking in the Asia and Pacific region.

Capacity Building and Training

ADBI's capacity building and training programs promote sound development management for senior and mid-level officials of ADB's developing member countries. Officials are supported to identify appropriate policies and to implement them effectively.

Outreach and Knowledge Management

ADBI disseminates results of research, training, seminars, and conferences through various media and publications, particularly the ADBI website. International and regional media, including the Financial Times, The Wall Street Journal, and The New York Times, have covered ADBI's work.

